Be Prepared ... for Grace

The Rev. Mother Nina Bacas

Just yesterday I was in contact with my friend in Asheville, NC. Although they sustained some fallen trees and a flooded basement during Hurricane Helene, everyone is okay. But the whole region was without power for two weeks, and the roads were unpassable. Any of us could hunker down for a couple of days, but what about after that? When everything falls apart, the natural instinct for people is to walk to the nearest church for help.

My friend is a retired Episcopal bishop. He walked to a Pentecostal church and stood in line for bottled water and food. Neighbors then walked to check in on each other, and shared what they could. When everything falls apart, we turn to God and we turn to each other. My friend experienced tremendous grace.

The photo above is from the basement of the Music & Education building. In case of a local disaster, St. Bart's is prepared to be a point of grace. We have blankets, MREs, water, first aid kits, and more. We keep our stock up to date, even though, God willing, we pray we will never need it. But if something does happen, we are prepared to be that church that people walk to when everything falls apart.

It's hard to imagine needing these supplies, but not hard to imagine the grace that would flow from our church in a crisis.

Adult Forum

St. Bart's Finances—Where We Stand
Sunday, October 27, 9 a.m., Sanctuary

This Sunday our treasurer, Bill Angus, will present the financial status of our church. For 2024, we increased pledging by 15%—many members increased their pledge or pledged for the first time, and many newcomers pledged as well —but St. Bart’s is still not where it needs to be for financial sustainability. We can only provide programs and staffing and maintain our campus if everyone pledges.

As we plan for 2025 programs and staffing, we need your commitment to support St. Bart’s. If you call this church home, you are on the campaign team. All pledges are important to support our mission to make Christ more present in our lives and our world.

Bring your questions and suggestions to this important gathering. Note that we will meet in the sanctuary right after the 8 a.m. service.

“Walk in Love” Annual Giving Campaign

By now each household should have picked up a stewardship packet, which includes a letter from Mother Nina Bacas, a campaign and expense budget summary, and a pledge card.

You are invited to Walk in Love by increasing your pledge for 2025 or making an annual pledge for the first time. You can easily promise to support St. Bart’s 2025 goals and mission online at stbartschurch.org/give, or by completing a pledge card and returning it to the church office or placing it in the collection plate.

If you have questions, check the details on our website or contact St. Bart’s treasurer, Bill Angus.

2025 Giving Campaign Committee: Bill Angus, Anne Hand, Judy Macemon,

Over the past couple of weeks, we published letters from our, senior warden, Jerry Gray, and treasurer, Bill Angus, asking you to prayerfully consider your pledge. If you missed their letters, you can find them below.

BEWARE OF PHISHING EMAILS!

Protect yourself from scams

- Check the sender's email address
- Don't click on suspicious links
- Don't share passwords or other sensitive information via email

Beware of Phishing Attempts

A scammer has recently been sending phishing emails impersonating St. Bart's clergy or staff members, in an attempt to trick parishioners into sharing personal or financial data. This is a perennial problem with churches. Know that we will never ask for sensitive information or solicit favors, gift cards, or payments of any kind via email. If you receive one of these messages, please do not respond.

If you are not sure if an email is legitimate, check the sender's email address. Clergy and staff will contact you only with email addresses ending in @stbartschurch.org. The scammer is using a Gmail address that presents with the name of a clergy or staff member. If you click on the name, you will see the Gmail address. Block this sender, if possible.

Bible Study: Gnosticism: From Nag Hammadi to the Gospel of Judas
Wednesdays, September 11–November 27, 10 a.m.-noon, Zoom

Join Bill Zettinger and Bob Capettini as they conduct a weekly Zoom Bible study based on a DVD series on Gnosticism. Notes will be provided each week.

In the first three centuries after Jesus, there existed various forms of Christianity that were very different from what would later become the Christian orthodoxy that we practice today. Gnostics had a differing view of Christianity. They were seeking direct knowledge of God. They offered salvation from ignorance and fate through knowledge of a higher God, who was greater than the one who created our universe. This higher God sent Jesus, and they claimed that people could have mystical personal contact with that God right now.

For more information or to be added to the Bible study distribution list, please email Bob Capettini.

Wednesday Women's Bible Study

September 18–November 20, 6 p.m.

Church office & Zoom

The fall session of the Wednesday Women's Bible Study began on September 18 and runs through November 20. Participants can meet in the church office or join in via Zoom.

We are currently reading *Behold and Believe: A Bible Study on the "I Am" Statements of Jesus*, by Courtney Doctor and Joanna Kimbrel. This Bible study will help readers understand who Jesus is and why he is important to our lives by exploring the question "Who is Jesus?" through the "I Am" statements in the Gospel of John. Jesus describes himself as the bread of life, the light of the world, the good shepherd, and more. His bold words invite us to behold him—and then to trust him.

The series provides an opportunity to have difficult but respectful and transformative conversations.

A new EDSD-wide Sacred Ground circle (discussion group) will be starting on Wednesday, November 20. The circle will be limited to 8-12 individuals and will meet for 12 sessions roughly every two weeks—same day and time.

 OFFICE OF GOVERNMENT RELATIONS

 EPISCOPAL PUBLIC POLICY NETWORK

#VoteFaithfully

How to Be a Well-Informed Voter

As Christians, we are called to “speak the truth, and to not mislead others by our silence” (The Book of Common Prayer, p. 848). It’s crucial, therefore, that we know how to recognize deceitful or misleading information and prevent its spread. Here are some tips on becoming a well-informed voter:

- Diversify your information sources: Relying on a single source of information can create echo chambers and reinforce biases. Diversify your media consumption by choosing a mix of international, left-leaning, right-leaning, and centrist news sources.
- Verify information: Verify information using reliable fact-checking websites like FactCheck.org and PolitiFact, which specialize in debunking false claims. This is especially important given the increasing use of AI-generated content, which makes it easier than ever to generate and spread misinformation.

- Engage with primary sources: Whenever possible, go directly to the source of the information. Watch campaign speeches and interviews in full, rather than relying on snippets or summaries, which may be biased. Also rely on contextual coverage to help you determine whether something you saw or heard is misinformation.

Nature as Neighbor: Expanding Our Sense of Sacred Community

Saturday, October 26, 9:30 a.m.-noon

Online & in-person at First United Methodist Church of San Diego(2111 Camino del Rio South, San Diego, CA 92108)

San Diego School of Christian Studies invites you to come and hear Professor Peter Bolland, Philosophy and Humanities Department Chair at Southwestern College, speak on "Nature as Neighbor: Expanding Our Sense of Sacred Community." If the core Christian message is radical care for all who suffer, and not merely personal salvation, then what happens when we expand the meaning of "neighbor" to include all creation—the plants and animals, and the biosphere that supports them? In the face of our current climate crisis, we are challenged more urgently than ever—what good is caring for others if we do not also care for the world that sustains all of our lives? How might Christianity contribute to the crucial work of natural restoration?

The lecture runs from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m., followed by 30 minutes of Q&A and then a light lunch. Registration is $10 per person; please sign up in advance.
